Fall 2022 New Student Registration & Seat Reserves

ALLISON MITCHALL, PAIGE ABE, BEN HAVEN
Overall Goal:

Ensure that incoming FY and TR students have access to appropriate courses to register for 15-17 hours & start strong on their academic journey at UNC.
Three Processes

First-Year Preregistration
The Office of Undergraduate Curricula (OUC) works with the Office of the Registrar to preregister all incoming first-year students into FY Foundations courses to help “jump start” their registration for the fall semester.

New Student Seat Reserves (FY & TR)
The Academic Advising Program (AAP) in collaboration with the Office of the Registrar partners with the academic units across campus to reserve seats in fall courses for incoming first-year and transfer students.

New Student Registration
• Incoming transfer students register for fall classes as soon as they matriculate.
• Incoming first-year students register for classes during their registration sessions in July.
Fall 2022 Incoming First-Year Preregistration

Goal: Preregister all new FY students into two First-Year Foundations to “jump start” their fall schedule
Fall 2022 Incoming First-Year Preregistration

Seat Allocations: All seats in FY Launch, Triple-I, and IDST 101; most FY Seminar Seats

Goal: Academic Advising & OUC partner with departments and Registrar’s Office to reserve seats in FY & TR appropriate courses:

- Seats are set aside before continuing students register for fall 2022 classes to ensure adequate course availability for incoming students.
- Senior leadership from the College of Arts & Sciences, Academic Advising and the Registrar’s Office are in discussion about the most efficient process for summer 2022.
- Continue to promote courses to incoming students:
  - Include “Suggested FY Courses by Major” list in the New Student Guide
